

EX-EMPEROR OF GERMANY Believes With Advisers That Allies' Demand Will Be Held Illegal.

AMERONGEN, Wednesday, June 25 (by the Associated Press).—Former Emperor William and his advisers are apparently fully confident the Netherlands government will be unable to consent to the entente's forthcoming demand for his extradition, which the former emperor's suite regards as illegal under existing international law.

Several members of the entourage are away from Amerongen, being busy with the arrangements for Count Hohenlohe's future residence, and indications point to his removal within the short period from his present place of exile.

Former Monarch Outwardly Calm.
The former monarch was himself outwardly calm today after the first shock of hearing that Germany had decided to sign the treaty without reservations. His wife, however, was more affected and appeared to be deeply saddened by the prospect that it will be impossible for her ever to return to her native country.

Within the castle where her husband went, with Dr. Forster, to resume his morning jog sowing, and was not without a short period during the afternoon.

As far as can be learned, the choice of the new home for Count Hohenlohe lies between two castles, one in the vicinity of Doorn and the other near Arnhem.

Report of Escape Explained.
PARIS, June 27.—The report of the escape of the former German crown prince from Holland, where he has been confined virtually since the cessation of hostilities, was explained today as follows:

A German document was made to the British intelligence department. It was then sent to the council of four, which at the moment, was in session, and announced to the newspaper correspondents by an American press official.

No statement has been made as to the source from which the British intelligence department received the original report.

HIGHER PAY EXPECTED FROM READJUSTMENT

Is every employee of the government expecting an increase in pay as the result of the work of the joint congressional commission on reclassification of salaries in the District?

Senator Smoot told the Senate yesterday that he expects to hear the hope of the employees in presenting testimony this week concerning the need of that extra $55,000 to carry out their work.

Senator Spencer told the committee that he thought "the moral influence among the 104,000 employees of the government, which is being contemplated in the savings in dollars and cents, is worth all that it costs outside of the savings in dollars and cents."

"Every employee in the government is expecting an increase in pay," said Senator Smoot.

Henderson, a member of the commission, said that he expected it to be an increase of 50 per cent., retorted Senator Smoot.

"When they get that civil list of salaries in the district attorney's office," added Senator Overman.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES IN MOONEY CASE IN QUERY

House Resolution Seeks Explanation of J. B. Densmore's Reported U. S. Labor Service Connection.

Report on the activities of employees of the Labor Department in connection with the case of Thomas J. Mooney, convicted in California in connection with bomb explosions, are asked from Secretary Wilson by a resolution adopted by the House yesterday.

Committee amendments to the resolution under which the Secretary would exercise discretion in answering the questions were voted down by the House, and the measure as passed by the Senate was adopted.

Mr. Wilson is said by his friends not to be opposed to sending the information to the House.

Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, who introduced the resolution, charged during debate that John B. Densmore, who was secretary of the Federal Employment Service, spent two months on the case "trying to put a lie in the district attorney's office to help turn the dynamites loose."

The resolution as sent to the Secretary by the House asks him to explain the official connection, if any, of Mr. Densmore with the Mooney case, and to furnish copies of Densmore's business card, to detail activities, if any, of Labor department employees in the case of the Mooney case.

It is believed that the individual who robbed the three apartments, 1416 R street, was, in fact, visited the apartments of John F. and Lieut. H. A. White, U. S. A., 1531 17th street, where small thefts were committed.

Earlier in the day the robber appeared in the apartment of H. G. Goelitz, 1416 R street, tried to open the door with a jimmy and was frightened off by Mrs. Goelitz.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holloway, 1737 17th street, told the police that the door of her apartment was jimmied and 100 stamps were stolen.

An intruder visited the residence of D. Gordon Washburn, 501 12th street, yesterday afternoon, gained entrance by cutting a screen door and stole a revolver.

Sixty dollars and box of cigars were stolen from the residence of Robert Wood, 702 Florida avenue, yesterday.

"MOST PERFECT WOMAN," SAYS HUSBAND IN WILL.

The late Maj. Charles Baird of the 41st Signal Corps Battalion, and his wife, whom he described in his will as the "most perfect woman I ever saw, heard or know of." He further eulogized her by writing "I am the richest of men, in that I am blest with the truest, most honorable and loving life in the world."

Mrs. Geremeyth Baird was born in Hungary and met her husband while visiting her brother in Scranton. It was a case of love at first sight, and though he could not speak her language or she English, they were married in three days. Mrs. Baird speaks German, French and Portuguese as well as her native and adopted tongues.

Her husband was killed on the fighting front. He was telegrapher and division operator for the Pennsylvania railroad and served in the Philippine war under Gen. Pershing, then a captain. At Pershing's request he took charge of all telephone and telegraph lines used by the A. E. F. in France.

PRESIDENT IS SATISFIED WITH NET RESULTS AT PARIS

Summed Up as "a Colossal Business Such as the World Never Dreamed of Before"—Amending Is Opposed.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 27.—On his arrival in the United States, President Wilson will go straight to Washington to lay before Congress the result of the peace conference. He will leave soon afterward for an extended tour of the country, for the purpose of explaining directly to the people all questions relating to the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant.

Coming Back Satisfied.
The President goes back to the United States more than satisfied, his friends say, with the net results of the conference and all things considered, the peace conference has been a wonderful success. While it is regarded as a disadvantageous peace for Germany, yet against this it is held that Germany committed a great wrong, and quite naturally and inevitably must make just reparation for that wrong.

Sees Many Liberated.
But outside of German results, the conference is viewed in presidential quarters as the beginning of a new era, never before had a chance of liberty, such as Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Also the conference is credited with having made the people of the world to make the peace regime enduring.

Other large results, it was pointed out, are the ending of chaos in labor, removing restrictions on international intercourse and many other international results which can be summed up as "a colossal business such as the world never dreamed of before."

Opposes Draft Amendment.
The peace treaty and the league of nations covenant, which are being considered without amendment, according to the presidential view as it is understood, for certain definite reasons, namely, that if any power seeks to make amendments then the war will not be over until every one of the twenty-one associated nations learns the results of the amendment. The amendment is not to be done through processes of negotiation and it is held that it would be a hopeless process of delay in reaching the final decision on the effect of the amendments would be to keep the United States out of the treaty and out of the league.

Feeling Against Fall Amendment.
Feeling in said to be particularly strong in presidential quarters against the resolution of Senator Fall of New Mexico, to declare a state of peace with Germany, which is being considered in these responsible quarters as having the effect of allying the United States with Germany and placing the country in a position where it would be a nation ever suffered. It is the President's belief, according to reliable sources, that not more than a handful of people in America will approve such a resolution.

American Experts Prevail.
The length of the peace conference is regarded, it is said, as beneficial on the whole, as the long discussion brought out the subject of the building among the nations. There is pride in the fact that the views of American experts usually prevailed, probably because the United States had no selfish interests involved in the difficult questions settled. It is also held that the influence played comparatively little or no part in the results of the conference.

Turkish Situation.
Concerning the mandate of the United States in Turkey, the President is now said to hold that he has no right to make any promises and that the most he could do was to present the situation to the people at home. One of the main reasons for the proposed American mandate in Constantinople, it is pointed out, is that it would clear away the European politics and keep the Black Sea open for the world's commerce.

Mexico and Costa Rica.
Concerning Mexico and Costa Rica not being in the league of nations, the presidential view is said to be that the situation is of their own making, and that it is necessary for those governments to "find themselves."

The primary object of the treaty, in the view is taken that the treaty adheres to the points more closely than had been expected, owing to the difficulties and complications which arose during the course of the negotiations.

Ready to Sign French Treaty.
Besides signing the treaty and the protocol tomorrow, the President has made it known that he is ready to sign the treaty carrying out the arrangements whereby the United States and Great Britain will come to the

GOVERNMENT ENDS WARRING TROOPS

Arriving Troops Restore Normal Conditions—Scheidemann Schemed.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 27.—It is officially announced that government troops are in complete control at Hamburg. No fighting is reported in the city, and it is said that sufficient troops are arriving to insure a restoration of normal conditions.

The independent socialists and communist members of the executive council of the Greater Berlin Soviet were arrested Thursday night by order of Minister of Defense, who they are charged with having been in collusion with the leaders of the uprising in Hamburg.

Approve Hoffmann Dismissal.
BERLIN, Thursday, June 26, (by the Associated Press).—The liberal newspapers strongly approve the dismissal of Gen. Hoffmann as commander in the eastern district. They say Hoffmann's attitude was an encouragement of nationalism, "which must be sternly checked because it hampers the peace conditions and gives the entire excuse for the restoration of the republic."

The plan failed because of jealousies and differences of opinion between the government and the army leaders, the correspondent says.

(A report from Geneva Thursday night says that Gen. Hoffmann has arrived in Switzerland after crossing the frontier on foot.)

The last proposal made by the conspirators planning to oppose the allies, it is said, was to ask Poland to combine with eastern Germany in the formation of a new republic. The offer, it is declared, was rebuffed by the Poles, who asked why it had not been offered ten years ago.

GET BUSY.
BY H. ADDINGTON BRUCE.
He was a man in early middle life and seemingly in excellent health. But he complained of sleeping badly, and at the time, was subject to frequent headaches.

Oculists, dentists and sundry specialists had looked him over with the utmost care, but could find nothing to account for his symptoms. Now he had come into the hands of a neurologist, who likewise pronounced him physically sound.

"Your trouble evidently is purely functional," said the doctor. "You have a habit of life or wrong mental attitude," said the neurologist. "Are you doing anything—anything—your business, for instance?"

"Why, no."

"What is your business?"

"I am a broker."

"You see, I am pretty well off, and do not have to work for my living. I do little in a business way except consult my broker every morning."

"You are a sick man simply because you are, to put it plainly, an idler."

"Being an idler, you have little to occupy your mind. You are a young man. By thinking overmuch of yourself you have manufactured these nervous symptoms that have brought you to me."

"Go to work, if only to take your mind off yourself. Get busy. That is the best prescription I can give you, and it is the only prescription you really need."

It is the only prescription needed by many another nervous invalid. The causes of nervousness are legion. But the commonest of all predisposing causes is idleness. As a sociological writer has declared with almost brutal frankness:

"Nervous prostrations and general breakdowns are most common among idlers, and among those who have the least and who may be regarded as parasites. Exercise both of brain and muscle is necessary for growth and health."

Seldom, in fact, does nervousness in any form attack the really busy man, whose mind is occupied by his work or his play. The mind is then too full of satisfying thoughts to permit of the self-worship, of which nervous symptoms spring.

Whereas indifference to one's work or failure to work at all opens wide the door for nervousness, the complete absorption in the semi-idler, thinking more of self than of anything else in the world, necessarily becomes a source of nervousness. Let anything that concerns the self go wrong and they fall into a panic of self-worship.

Take this to heart. If you are nervous and also are obliged to confess that work, earnest work, enters into your life, is a thing unknown to you. Get busy. Find some work to do, and do it with a will. Therein lies your salvation.

Plane Carries 9 in 114-Mile Flight

Lieut. G. L. Bradford and G. L. Palmer piloted the machine, which has been especially equipped for photographic work. The flight was a part of a thing hitherto accomplished in aerial photography.

ARE READY TO LEND AID TO NEEDY SERVICE MEN
Presbyterian Church Officials to Stay on Jobs All Summer to Help Young Men.

Discharged soldiers, sailors and airmen coming from Presbyterian families are asked to communicate with the officials of their church, who announce both that they are ready to lend assistance and that they are serving "without salaries and staying on their jobs all summer in order to serve the needy young men."

These officials announce that they will refrain from helping young men living in the city, but that no really deserving cases of sick and wounded men shall go unaided. HOLDS DATA FOR SERVICE FLAG OF 140,000 STARS
Brotherhood Says Eighteen on Average Went Into Army and Navy From Each P. E. Church.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Eighteen men, on the average, went into the Army and Navy from every Protestant Episcopal church in the country. This fact has been brought to light from a study of the records of the Army and Navy department of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Its records give the rank, military or naval unit and home address of virtually every Episcopalian in the service. The list runs from Gen. John J. Pershing and Admiral William G. Sims down to Private William A. Butler, Company A, 10th United States Infantry, 1st division, 88th and 89th Regiments, U. S. S. Pennsylvania.

Further records show that Episcopalian in the war numbered more than 10 per cent of the communicant list in the United States. During the past quarter the studies have covered the first half of the course on "Some of Great Teaching of the Bible." They have been of unusual value. Although the subjects have been old they possess a permanent character because they demand a consideration from each generation and individual Christian. They have been studies concerning the most fundamental realities of the Christian faith and life.

While each lesson has been distinct they have all served to emphasize the individuality of every man, setting him apart by himself, surrounded by an atmosphere of personal privilege and responsibility, and an important factor in the solution of the problem of the kingdom of God. REV. ARTHUR A. O'LEARY WILL CELEBRATE HIS FIRST MASS AT ST. ALOYSIUS CHURCH TOMORROW MORNING.

The Rev. Arthur A. O'Leary, S. J., who was ordained to the priesthood at Georgetown University this morning, will celebrate his first mass at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Aloysius Church, in the parish where he was born and spent his boyhood days.

In his school days he served as altar boy at the same altar at which he was ordained to the priesthood. To add to the solemnity of the occasion, tomorrow is the feast of St. Aloysius and it is expected the church will be crowded.

Rigid Rule Set Aside.
The service will be an unusual one because a rigid rule of the Jesuit order has been set aside to permit Father O'Leary to begin his career in his parish church. For twenty-five years he has lived in the strictest of the order, and he has been a member of the order since he was a child.

Today, however, the ordination took place at Georgetown University, this city. Cardinal O'Leary has been a member of a class of twenty-six Father O'Leary was the only Washingtonian.

New Priest's Assistants.
The newly ordained priest will be assisted in the mass tomorrow by Rev. John B. Creeden of Georgetown and Rev. John B. Creeden of Georgetown. Rev. John B. Creeden, pastor of St. Aloysius Church, and Rev. James J. Quinn, pastor of St. Ignatius Church, New York, and former president of the Catholic University, will deliver the homily.

Father O'Leary was born in this city September 27, 1887, and was educated in the St. Ignatius High School. He entered the Jesuit novitiate at Frederick, Md. For the past fifteen years he has been a member of the rigid course of preparation for the priesthood required by the Jesuit order.

One of the ways the college man can be of service to the community is by clear thinking. Being outside of the struggle, a spectator in the great social changes that are taking place more clearly than those in the tumult of doing. He can give us an occasional definition.
